What is significant?

The property at 7 Turnbull Avenue, Toorak, is significant. Specifically, the built form, setback, materiality, detailing and fenestration of the Interwar Old English house is locally significant. The clinker brick front boundary fence is a contributory element. The garage, though sympathetic in style, is not significant. Later alterations and additions to the property are also not significant.

How is it significant?

7 Turnbull Avenue is of local representative and aesthetic significance to the City of Stonnington.

Why is it significant?

7 Turnbull Avenue is of representative significance as a substantially intact and discernible Interwar Old English residence with Tudor Revival influences. The dwelling encompasses all the characteristics typically associated with this style, including a steeply pitched transverse gable roof with terracotta Marseilles tiles, rendered chimneys, half-timbered gables with timber battens and half-brick, diamond pattern leadlight windows and façade asymmetry. (Criterion D)

7 Turnbull Avenue is of aesthetic significance as a fine and picturesque Interwar Old English house with Tudor Revival influences designed by architect and builder C. L. Greenhill. Key attributes contributing to its aesthetic value include its picturesque asymmetry achieved through a carefully balanced composition, steeply pitched roof form, visually contrasting materiality and colour, fenestration, detailing, setback and sympathetic clinker brick front fence. These aspects combine to create a unified and attractive residence when viewed from the street. (Criterion E)
